December 2011

Chairman's Notes

Just a quick update on the club and a reminder of the events for the next month.

The club has now been decorated and Pat and I have put up the new blinds, which makes it all look very chic. With your support we are continuing the refurbishment next year, and the committee will be putting a figure in the budget for the toilets and the back of the club. Yvonne is on the lookout for some new furniture on eBay, with a very small budget – so lets hope she can find us a bargain.

If you have not come along to the Supper Club on a Friday evening you have been missing out on the Buckworth 'Casual' dining experience – so if you don't fancy cooking on a Friday – why not book a table at the club?

Our Bingo players have been enjoying their monthly evening and made me very welcome when I dropped in last month. Light refreshments and good company – a win on the Bingo would have made the evening perfect.

I unfortunately missed the Christmas Bazaar – but to all accounts a good time was had by all, and I was amazed at the money the stalls took. Many thanks for all who supported this event.

Finally the turkey has been bought, the sprouts are cooking ready for the Christmas Dinner on the 3rd and all the tickets are sold. It's shaping up for a good night.

Best wishes for the season, from me and all the committee.
