Review of April at the Club

The AGM in April marked the end of the club year when Peter Waterhouse stood down as Chairman and Richard Tolson took over the helm. Two new committee members, Nic and Amanda Cox, were elected and Amanda took on the role of Club Secretary. The accounts were presented and showed a small profit, even after the costs of refurbishment which exceeded £2000 had been met. This improvement in the club's finances was largely due to the contributions made by the popular and successful supper club.

The membership for 2012 currently stands at 71 – an increase of 3 members over 2011 – and there are some memberships still pending.

Fiona Morrison again received books to celebrate annual book day and a tea party was held at the club on the 21st of April. Copies of Bill Bryson's Notes from a Small Island were distributed and members of the reading group in Alconbury Weston also joined the event.

The St George's Day Supper was again a great evening enjoyed by all, thanks to the efforts of Margaret Warrenner and Elaine Whittaker. The event raised £520 for the church repair fund in addition to providing healthy bar takings for the club.
